MEXICO WANTS TO MOVE TROOPS THROUGH U. S.

CARRANZA GOVERNMENT ASKS PERMISSION TO TRANSPORT FORCES.

AIMS AT SONORA

Attack on Seceded State Is Planned by President Of Country.

(Bulletin)
Agua Prieta, Ariz., April 16.—Troops of the republic of Sonora numbering 300 have been ordered to move through the United States to defend the border, according to General Pina, in order to prepare against possible invasion of this state by Carranza forces from the United States territory in event permission is granted the federal government to route troops through the United States.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 16.—Mexico has asked permission from the United States to move troops through American territory so as to attack the state of Sonora from the north. No action on the request has yet been taken.

Plans Route Via Douglas
The Carranza government wishes to move its forces on the Mexican border through the Pulpito Pass through American territory to Douglas, Ariz., and across the boundary to Agua Prieta, from which Carranza forces are attacking the capital of Sonora, would be undertaken.

The only other attack against Sonora is through the Pulpito Pass between Sonora and Chihuahua, and it was said this pass could be defended by a small force of Sonora troops.

In making known today that Mexico had requested permission to move troops through Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, the United States was "under pressure from the Carranza government," Mexico frequently has asked permission to move troops through American territory to attack rebels in Sonora and on some occasions it has been granted.

Mexico's present position is due to the "unfortunate and mischievous policy of the Wilson administration," Henry P. Jones, president of the Senate committee investigating Mexican affairs, Mr. Wilson was appointed ambassador to Mexico in 1913 by President Taft and resigned soon after President Wilson's first term began in 1913.

The former ambassador told the committee that in the six years since his resignation every prediction he made then as to the result President Wilson's policy had been justified by events.

"President Wilson's theory that a number of Mexicans were struggling for liberty is erroneous," he said. "It is simply a free for all struggle for loot."

Mr. Jones said he had two policies, one calling for material development of the country, brought about by foreign aid, which succeeded and a second, one for establishing a national Mexican morale.

Said Theodore ROOSEVELT:

"Even men who are not professionally religious must, if they are frank, admit that no community permanently prospers, either morally or materially, unless the church is a real and vital element in the community life."

Put a church in a town and all real estate values increase.

Put a church in a town and it becomes at once a center of inspiration for better schools, better politics and general community improvement.

Put a church in a town and you insure a community where law and order reign, where the personal and property rights of men and women are respected, where children grow up trained in the ideals that have made America great.

Kill the church and you kill the Voice that is constantly calling men to more unselfish living.

Kill the church and you cut the nerve of your hospitals, your colleges, your civic organizations and even of respect for government itself.

Thirty denominations, realizing that the problems facing them are too great to be solved by any one denomination alone, are cooperating in a great forward campaign under the name of the Interchurch World Movement.

No modern business could have made a more scientific survey of the task than these denominations have made. No budgets could be more carefully drawn. You have the satisfaction of knowing that every dollar you give has its post of duty assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for a better America and a better world. For an American where the ideals of Washington and Lincoln and Roosevelt will continue to grow strong. When your church calls on you in the campaign week of April 25th give, and give with your heart as well as your pocketbook.

Motorcycle enthusiasts here have reorganized the Motorcycle club, disbanded in 1917 because of the war. Loren Ormsbee is president; Benjamin Fuder, vice president, and Daisie Craig, secretary and treasurer. The club was organized in March, 1917, with a membership of 27 men and boys interested in or owning motorcycles. During that summer club members toured practically all of Wisconsin and parts of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa. Plans are being made to make out a certain itinerary to be traveled over this summer.

By September of 1917 only three members of the club remained, the second hard winter the service. Nearly all of the members were fortunate in getting into the motor transport corps. At present there are five members of the club still in service doing reconstruction work in the war zone.

The personnel of the club at present: Chester Barriage, Loren Ormsbee, Daisie Craig, Robert Shumacher, Fred Shumacher, Clarence Coy, Harold Culver, Benjamin Fuder, Frank Robinson, William Wolfe, William Wiesel, Roland Abel, Roscoe Van Pool, George Ward, Shirley Fisher, George Austin, Bernard Stricker, Tom King.

All motorcycle riders are invited to join the club, which has its next meeting Wednesday evening, April 21, at the Fuder garage.

Two local youths, Bruce Jeffries and George Dennison, were arraigned in municipal court today charged with the theft of a car last night without consent of the owner, Fred Howe, this city. They asked for a hearing which was set for April 20, two weeks from today, and were given their liberty until that time upon bail of $750 each, which was furnished by Russell Parker and Charles Riley.

The Howe machine, driven by the nephew of the owner, Capt. Harold Pelton, was parked near the Budget cafe on Main street last evening while he was attending the banquet for Company "M" men in the Myers hotel. A search of several hours during the evening and finally abandoned it in "Hog" alley in the second ward where it was found by police at 2:30 this morning.

Capt. Pelton notified police headquarters upon finding the machine gone and a search of several hours ensued. It is claimed by police that the two young men, later arrested, were seen driving it.

Arrested by Officer Patrick Stein early this morning they were taken to the police station spending the balance of the night in the city lock-up, in separate cells.

The were arraigned before Judge Maxfield at 11:30 this morning after Chief Morrissey had signed the complaint. Dist. Atty. Duvald recommended setting the hearing for two weeks ahead because of a full calendar for next week.

The penalty for the offense of driving a car without the owner's consent is not more than 5 years in the state prison, not more than 1 year in the county jail or a fine not to exceed $1,000, or both.

LOCAL COLOR FOR SERMON ON DANCING BY MR. LEWIS

For two weeks Rev. Franklin P. Lewis, pastor of the Cargill Memorial Methodist church, has been attending the public dances in Janesville. Not that he cares much about dancing, but he will preach about it Sunday. His topic Sunday morning will be, "Why Methodists Do Not Dance." He has seen many things that he will tell about, and some of them according to his report, have not been at all nice and respectable. At one of the dances where he was apparently an interested onlooker, he was invited earnestly to dance.

"Don't you know who I am?" he responded. "I am the Methodist minister."

WIFE WIELDED A MEAN CLUB HE SAYS IN DIVORCE SUIT

There is nothing like the weaker sex in the wife of David A. Titus, 55, if the papers filed in circuit court here in which he sues Minnie Titus, 42, for divorce, is true. The couple was married April 2, 1919, and separated last April 4. Each had been married previously and had children. On the day of the separation, says Titus, his wife burst into a fit of anger and when she started to beat him he locked himself in one of the rooms of their home. When his wife, aided by her youngest son, he states, threatened to break down the door with an axe, he opened it only to receive kicks, scratches and a general mauling. On withdrawing to the lower floor, the woman followed, he declares, and catching him, beat him so badly with a stick that he was neither able to walk nor work for several days. He then tried to seek shelter at neighbors, but his wife followed him and threatened his plans. This, he alleges, was only one of numerous such incidents.

Ever since their marriage, he says that he has been compelled to turn over his pay to her every week and that when he wanted any money he had to ask her for it.

The woman kept boarders and roomers, thus charges, with whom she was familiar, sitting on their laps and kissing them in his presence.

CLAM SEASON IS NEVER CLOSED ON ROCK RIVER

L. J. F. Janesville, inquirer of the Gazette if there is a closed season for clams in Wisconsin on Rock river and states that he has made inquiry elsewhere and no one can tell him.

The only laws on clam fishing are in the statutes of 1917, page 264, section 33.33, and an amendment to this section in the laws of Wisconsin as printed in the supplement of 1919. The latter says that a man must have a license to catch or kill any clam.

There is no closed season and if one has a license he can fish at any time. He must make a report on or before the 10th of January each year on blanks furnished by the conservation commission.

BE PREPARED FOR SHOCK WHEN MEN'S NEW STYLES ARRIVE

"The sky's the limit to freak styles for men this year," the clothier says.

Side-crooked trousers (that you'd democrat of nobility, the Prince of Wales, revived the idea), "rah-rah" trousers, tight-fitting jackets and the high cut vest will be among the designs for summer this year.

"He-vamps" and "old guys, with young ideas" are responsible for the high cost of living, at least that is what men tailors were told at their convention at Chicago this week.

Sweet, swaggering male fashion plates and old men possessing men's ambitions—the pride and vanity of the sex—are availing clothing prices to attitudes from where communication with much sought Mars is near possible. Likewise prices of other things are keeping up with the bandwagon.

THE ONLY CURE FOR THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

All the stores you see on the streets, every single one of them, was built up out of the difference between the COST of goods and the PRICE you pay for them. This difference is called "profit." In fact, the reason these stores were started was the desire to get this profit and not the desire to supply you at the lowest possible cost with the pure goods you want or need. You must own your own stores to do that.

You are now one of the persons that must buy from the owners of these stores. The profits they get on the goods you buy makes many dealers rich and keeps you poor. Prices go higher and higher because the desire for greater profits grows fast whenever there is a chance. Right now, when the whole world needs lots of goods and nobody but the profiteers have them, you have got to pay these men big prices and let them make a big profit to get the things you need. War and "after-war" conditions give such men the chance to make bigger and bigger profits and "get rich," while you, the producers and wage earners, receive less and less for your money and are therefore getting poorer, unless you work longer and harder.

Now, men in business for a profit will never change this system and quit taking higher and higher profits or trying to get rich. They will always sell poor goods at high prices so they can get rich faster.

TRUCKS COME INTO USE FOR LONG HAULS

Janesville motor transfer men specializing in rural and long distance hauling, are gently murmuring, "It's an ill wind that does not blow some good." The reason is their business has been more than trebled as the result of the strike on the railroads.

While many local firms have turned to the parcel post and to the interstate to handle their shipments others have resorted to the use of motor trucks to carry their products to Chicago and Milwaukee. As it happens the motor truck owner gets the benefit going and coming, for the strike has given him ingress at every point where otherwise the railroads would secure the business.

One Janesville man has had eight loads each way between here and Chicago this week. Samson began the employment of trucks this week to Chicago. Two arrived here last night with supplies. They will return with loads tomorrow and will carry back additional stock early next week.

The roads are in fair condition for trucks and are gradually growing better, drivers report.

Lots of men secretly pray for their wives.

FORWARD, JANESVILLE!

To make Janesville a better place in which to live and in which to do business, the Gazette pledges itself to work for and support these things:

Housing survey to discourage exorbitant rentals; encouragement of building more houses; appraisal of property values so that rent profiteers may be made to pay the increased amount of taxes.

Open roads in the country 365 days of the year; better roads generally and support of the road building plans; better streets and more paved streets in the city.

A market pavilion in the city which may also be used for many other purposes by farmers and livestock producers.

A community building to be used for auditorium, sport events, meetings, rest rooms, and also as a fitting memorial for soldiers.

Open the churches seven days a week and stop economic waste in room and time. Make basements meeting places for the young, and provide gymnasium facilities.

Build a real home for the girls who come here to work.

Open the fair grounds this year as a recreation park with tennis courts, and play apparatus. Establish parks and playgrounds.

Better the street car service as population increases.

This day, 1862, slavery was abolished in the district of Columbia and the National capital ceased to have slaves. It was the first of the slave territory south of the Mason and Dixon line to take the step.

NOT MUCH OF A MOVING DAY.

There is every indication that May 1, characterized by the annual flight of the people from one house to another, will be marked by the absence of the nomad this year. He has come to be a part of the life of all cities. Moving day, sung in jest and in earnest, was both comedy and tragedy and a hard job for the women folks at best. But Janesville will escape this annual flight this year. And the reason is far removed from jest. It is a matter for earnest consideration and the best effort to solve the one big overwhelming problem on the city blackboard.

The acute housing problem of last fall and the winter continues. It is the city's one big problem. Incidentally the man who has been blessed with opportunity to have a place is not very likely inclined to go elsewhere from his territory despite, perhaps, the landlord's edict that "the ante's boosted on the first of the month."

There are many men employed in the city ready to rent as soon as flats or homes are available. Their families still are forced to remain away because of conditions locally.

The controversy between labor and employers is regarded with grave concern by prospective builders. Records of the new building inspector, an office created but a week ago, prove a barometer on the future of the city. Most any day will see applications for new buildings, repairs and installations that aggregate thirty to fifty thousand dollars.

Regardless of the labor trouble many of those who are planning to build are not giving up the hope that the present antagonistic feeling will wane and that an early and amicable settlement be reached. Therefore their plans are progressing and an enormous outlay of work is on the desks of Janesville architects.

There has been some additional apprehension on the part of those who contemplated building, owing to the rail strike and other collateral conditions. But these are incidents of a changing time and will undoubtedly pass. The fact, however, is that there will be much building this season, though all so far planned will still be inadequate to care for the people who want to come to Janesville.

A CRITICAL SITUATION FACING THE NEWSPAPERS.

What the newspapers face now is not a mere curtailment of production and a decrease in size with circulation restrictions, but the possible necessity of complete suspension of more than one-half of the publications of the country. Paper shortage has grown daily to be a menace to the business. The price of newsprint today is $200 a ton in England, $250 in Sweden, $200 in France, and $250 and higher for transient lots in the United States. Mills refuse to add any more customers. In seven years the price of newsprint has gone from $40 a ton to $250. To meet these rising costs in paper, the price of advertising space and of subscription has been raised. Other increases in the cost of production, in wages and cost of other materials entering into the making of a newspaper, have been more than 50 percent. But these have been met and are not necessarily a dominant factor in the situation which the publishers face.

For many days now, the Chicago Tribune has been publishing 12 pages, eliminating its classified columns and the bulk of the advertising. Beginning Thursday the Milwaukee Journal sent out its state edition with 8 pages and no advertising. This paper is designed to cover all the territory from 50 miles outside of Milwaukee. In taking this step the Journal says that all newspapers have been affected in one of these ways:

First—Smaller papers have been forced to suspend publication entirely.

Second—Papers have been forced to consolidate because they could not obtain paper enough individually.

Third—The larger newspapers have been forced to curtail news space, advertising and circulation.

The telegraph this morning carries the news that the afternoon newspapers of Cincinnati have been ordered to curtail their size to 8 pages. That will mean the rejection of advertisements and cutting the paper to the lowest terms. So far the Gazette has been able to care for both its advertisers and its readers, but with the rail strike and the uncertainty of deliveries it is now necessary to restrict the size of the paper somewhat. If the strike continues other reductions in size will be necessary. The high standard of the news and the features will be maintained to the limit of possibility.

But the newspaper business is facing a revolution. All publication lines are in the same boat. There will be fewer big editions and the golden era of page after page of advertisements and sections of features will pass. There will be more effort to print things in a condensed form. The trivial and evanescent will not be chronicled. And yet the world was never more hungry for news. The war enormously increased the circulation of papers, and since the armistice there has been an increase rather than a falling off. We are passing through a period of world change and world readjustment.

PERHAPS.

Seems like I'll never kick again.
When I have got an overhead
There's not a cloud to herald rain,
If soon the poppies blossom red
An' grass an' grain begin to grow
An' Nature takes on milder ways,
I'll think about this winter's snow
An' let the old sun burn and blaze.

Right now I don't believe I'll mind
The burning weather of July,
I think I much prefer that kind
To snow drifts piled up window high.
An' when I walk along the street
An' sighs on every hand are heard
Regarding the terrific heat,
I don't believe I'll say a word.

I'm over fed on ice and snow,
Of wintry blasts I've had my fill,
I long to see the winter go,
And nightly pray that soon it will;
An' in perchance the summer brings
Us blistering days that heat and burn,
I'll voice in all my murmurings
No wish for winter to return.

It may be I shall grumble then
When I am sweltering with the heat,
Shall initiate my fellowmen,
And say that it's too hot to eat;
Perhaps I shall forget just how
I've suffered all this winter long.
But still the way I feel just now
The sun will never get too strong.

ment, and the newspaper must be the carrier of the message and the purveyor of information. To curtail circulation amounts to a public calamity, but it must be done. It is a condition and not a theory confronting the publisher. He must meet the condition with justice, first to his public, to whom he bears the relation of a quasi-public servant and to his own business. Whatever solution comes there will not be and cannot be any profit to him. He faces something far different. And the signs of betterment of the condition are not within the vision of any man.

ADJUSTMENT BY GETTING TOGETHER.

Warfare either on the part of labor or by the employer will not settle differences. There must be adjustment. Radicals, hot-heads, men without anchorage of home or family cannot well be a determining factor with settlement based either on justice or equity. Nor can the employer who is stubborn in his position of saying "No," be taken as the rudimentary basis for settlement of labor and employer differences. We all live here, under the same government, with the same hopes, aspirations and desires. And we have, of necessity, got to get together and look at the questions—grave and important—from the viewpoint of the other fellow as well as our own. And the big thing is action, quick, immediate and decisive. Millions are at stake in the rail strike. Bread and butter is involved. Paralysis of industry is following fast. How far the government has been derelict may be debatable. It has, however, done nothing up to the last moment. It is time to do more. And the only spirit that will make for industrial peace is for the conflicting parties to settle out of court.

Just after the referendum on the constitutional amendment is over and the people of the state of Wisconsin have decided that $500 a session is enough for the members of the legislature, along comes the university with an excellent little book showing why the legislators should receive more. In a table of salaries paid to members we note Kansas where the statesmen get $3 a day, and Oregon the same. Misery loves company.

Now it is revealed that Germany was about ready to send a flock of Zeppelins to raid Washington. It will take something like that to jar the swivel chair holders loose and send them home to the dugout.

It looks as though the city council would also have to pass an ordinance about parking baby carriages in Janesville.

To solve the farm labor problem why not put the 102,000 surplus clerks at Washington out with the hoe?

Asiatic Oyster

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, April 16.—So far as Americans have any idea of Asia at all, they think of it as a large, lazy, unorganized country, which is being and always has been exploited and developed by the European nations. The United States is now urged to get into the game, too. In a word, Asia is an oyster to be opened by the western world.

It is also generally understood that the opening of the oyster, and the eating of part of its substance, is about to be opened by the western world. It is a great deal of Chinese wealth has departed westward through the open door, but at the same time, billions of dollars of supplies, smoking tobacco, plumbing and a great many other putative benefits have come by the same route. Wealth returns westward.

Likewise the figures seem to prove conclusively that Great Britain has been taking wealth out of India ever since the days of the East India company and carrying it to Great Britain. But in return the English have supplied India with railroads, irrigation and the like, and the necessities of industrial civilization.

A third assumption which seems to be generally accepted is that the Asiatics are satisfied with the order of things, are grateful for the enlightenment, the machinery and the capital which the western nations have brought them.

The Oyster Objects
The last assumption does not seem to stand up as well as it used to. A great many recent expressions can be found by Asiatics, and some by Europeans, indicating that the Asiatics are not grateful to the Europeans for what they have done, and that "Asia for the Asiatics" is a slogan which is carried in many hearts and may yet be heard in many a nation.

What makes the Asiatics comparatively helpless is that they lack the industrial and military organization of the western nations. But we are doing everything in our power to teach them that. In one Asiatic nation, Japan, we have seen a really successful example of what Asiatic nations can do when they have really learned the tricks of industrial and military civilization in one generation.

Japan Modernized Rapidly
Japan was a modern nation half a century ago. Now it is a modern one in every sense of the word. And Japan has shown not only that an Asiatic nation can learn the tricks of industrialism in a very short time, but it can apply them in the same way we do. Already Japan is exceeding China and Korea in economic development. The western nations have been "developing" Asia in general. And when the United States and Great Britain protest against the process, on the ground that it is keeping the western nations out of a share in the said development, they are making a mistake.

Does Exploitation Pay?
Our most direct share in the Asian region is the Philippines, and the strong movement for the Philippine independence. The war against the growing unrest. Those who claim that it is no longer possible for western nations to exploit and exploit Asia also argue that we really gain nothing by so dominating and exploiting. The bulk of the English people, they say, are not making by the getting of India. Neither has the bulk of the French people gained anything from the French Asiatic colonies, but on the other hand they have paid in blood and money to hold these possessions. A similar inquiry might be made as to what the average American has gained by the fact that this nation holds the Philippines.

WIRE TICKS
New York.—The strike of 4,000 longshoremen against the United Fruit company from Boston to Galveston, was settled.
New Iberia, La.—Six men were burned to death at the bottom of a 20 foot mine shaft on the former estate of the late Joseph Jefferson, actor.
Salem, Ore.—Petitions to enter Herbert Hoover's name on the Oregon ballot were being gathered here from Portland by seaplane.
Los Angeles.—The Pacific fleet will assemble in San Francisco bay during the democratic national convention. Admiral Hugh Rodman announced.

MAYOR DEMANDS LAST BALLOTS BE RECOUNTED

Antigo.—Mayor John Benishel, through his attorney, Henry Hay, has filed his demand for a recount of the ballots cast for mayor in the recent election which resulted in a tie. Mayor Benishel lost in the toss of a coin to decide the tie, and his opponent in the election, Charles Hanson, declared elected. Mayor Benishel, in his petition, alleges mistakes were made and frauds committed in the counting and return of the votes in all the wards. The ballots were counted for Hanson, which were not made out or cast in accordance with law, that votes intended for Benishel were counted for Hanson, as well as others cast by parties not legal voters.

ASHLAND EXPECTS BIG ORE SHIPPING SEASON

Ashland.—As the ore shipping season approaches, it is expected that this year will be a record. Last season shipments were nearly six million tons from this port, but they should reach 10 million this year. The three ore docks of the Chicago & Northwestern may ship eight million tons. The dismantling of the old "Red" ore dock which is taking place leaves one dock for that company, the new steel and cement dock which was completed last year. The ore has been shipped from the mines yet, the cold weather of the past three weeks being too severe, as the ore would freeze in the cars.

BROTHER AND SISTER OF NORWAY MEET IN STATE

La Crosse.—Forty-seven years ago Ole Olson and his sister left Sole, Norway. He went to New Zealand, she came to the United States. Married Gust Voldness and settled in Chimney Rock. Ole became a prosperous farmer in New Zealand. His sister, Mrs. E. E. Bullock, is now in America. He left New Zealand late in February and has just arrived at Chimney Rock, where he will meet his sister and her husband. He is now 75 and she is 70. He will make a three months' visit.

BODY OF ASHLAND SOLDIER BROUGHT HOME

Ashland.—The first of 40 bodies of Ashland county soldiers who lost their lives in the recent war arrived at Ashland in charge of Private W. W. McLeod, of the 10th Cavalry. The body of William Boyle, which arrived at Ashland, was brought from England, where he died while on his way to France. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the American Legion. The escort of soldiers was about 100.

BANK TAKES OVER WIRE SERVICE

Rhineland.—Telephone service was cut off in Rhineland, Germany, over the North German telephone company to meet running expenses. The bank finally reconsidered and allowed the service to be resumed.

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE

We went to a hat shop. With a certain lady. We did not want to go. Going to a hat shop, A lady's hat shop, As our idea of life. Nothing much to do. Even on a bright afternoon. She looked at hats And tried them on. And then looked at hats And tried them on. And then tried them on And looked at them. And in an hour or two She held up two of them And asked: "Which one do you like the better? I want to please you."

"I like the red one," We said. "It is a fine hat And I think it becomes you Better than the others. It matches your coloring. And the shape of it coincides With the shape of your nose. Take that red one and you Will make no mistake." "All right," she said, Turning to the milliner, "I'll take the green one."

One health expert says it is yet a little chilly in the evening for mobilizing the army. "Be- Julius Caesar who once said: 'Be- ware of rides of March.'"

It is not often we feel like letting even a mild cackle emanate from our Grecian, alabaster countenance, but something akin to a modest and dignified chuckle did spring therefrom the other day, when we read that the internal revenue office at Seattle had been entered and the day's receipts of income taxes taken.

There is no such word as "impossible" in this great, glorious country of ours. We know a man leaves his place of business in New York at 5 p. m. and reaches his office in Jersey at 4:30—the same day!

James Haneke says persons having the artistic temperament should never get married. But he does not take into consideration the fact that about 35 per cent of a person's artistic development comes after that interesting event.

The much-advertised "cheaper cuts of meat" are the ones that you will not find in the butcher shop. The best place to find them quickly is on the chart of some cow that is marked off in sections and numbered from 1 to 23.

Is it cheaper to move than pay rent, cheaper to pay rent than to move, or cheaper to buy a house on the installment plan than to do either? Quick, Watson, the ouija board.

"I leave it to you," is the will left by a London man. Not another word. To him there probably was only one "her" in the world, but it is surprising how many "hers" can bob up serenely after a funeral.

DRIVE TO STAMP OUT
ILLEGAL FISHERMEN

Pepin.—A drive to stamp out what is declared to be a clique of illegal fishermen was started by Wisconsin game wardens and sheriffs. It is charged that an underground system is in operation in the state by which the illicitly caught fish are sent to other districts. The game wardens had just seized $500 worth of fish consigned to the east on a train north of La Crosse. When they attempted to follow the clue to Pepin they found that the men they were after had fled.

SAVE THE WRAPPER—IS

splined by exhibitors of la-dé-da-im plan every day sweating is neither indecent nor impolite. It is simply silly for one to feel embarrassed because the hands or the face sweat.

Excessive sweating is frequent in various systemic diseases. Profuse sweating in sleep occurs in so many different diseases that "night sweats" are likely to be a sign of some disease. Contrary to the morbid notions in vogue, it is not a sign of some disease of any particular trouble.

People who eat more meat than they need are likely to sweat excessively on slight provocation.

Infants, improperly fed, and consequently suffering in some degree with rickets are likely to sweat in sleep, especially about the head.

Persons who take tea or coffee too freely are likely to sweat too much. Sweating limited to one side is usually due to some reflex irritation of the sympathetic nervous system, which controls the sweat glands.

Excessive sweating of the armpits may be safely stopped by sponging the clean, dry surface each alternate day for three or four times with a solution of aluminum chloride, one-half ounce, in distilled or rain water, two ounces, and allowing this to dry before dressing.

Excessive sweating of the feet may be similarly treated.

If there is a disagreeable odor, the feet should be sponged with a solution of formalin (Liquor formaldehydi 40 percent), one ounce, in water, one pint. This should dry before putting on the stockings.

Another good remedy for excessive sweating of the feet is finely powdered alum sprinkled daily in the shoes and in the stockings. It is better not to use hot water, but only cold water for bathing the feet, and the more rarely they are bathed the better. It had cases the feet of the stockings may be soaked in a saturated solution of boracic acid (as much of the water will dissolve) at night and hung up to dry. The shoes should be worn rather than high shoes; and it is wise to go barefoot whenever possible.

For localized sweating elsewhere, topical applications are less satisfactory. This solution may be used as a wash, sponged on and allowed to dry, twice a day.

Formic acid ..... 1 dram
Alcohol (for toilet water) ..... 3 ozs.
Water ..... 3 ozs.

Sometimes, or at least more convenient. This is a good one:

Salicylic acid ..... 1 dram
Boric acid ..... 1 oz.
Zinc stearate ..... 1 oz.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Will you kindly publish recipe for taking yeast cakes for pimples and gaining weight? (J. J. B.)

ANSWER.—There is no particular recipe. Take one yeast cake, any brand, and mix with one egg and milk. After each meal, or twice a day, for six weeks, more or less, and the yeast should be worn rather than high shoes; and it is wise to go barefoot whenever possible.

For localized sweating elsewhere, topical applications are less satisfactory. This solution may be used as a wash, sponged on and allowed to dry, twice a day.

ARE YOU KNITTING
SUMMER SWEATERS?
HERE'S THE STYLE

By ELOISE

These women who are not too busy attending to meetings and political speeches may have time to ply their knitting needles before summer arrives. They will be fortunate if they do knit their own sweaters for these very important wraps are getting more costly every year. The advantages of knit sweaters are many. They are the best, they may be more individual in color and style and one may match up skirts and hats and frocks much easier with the yarn than with the made-up sweaters.

Here is a pretty new style for the coming summer. It is the portable slip-over style and is rather easy to make. Two pretty stitches are used, one the new box stitch and the other the plain knit stitch. It has wide stripes of contrasting color, trim the ripple pattern and the wide cuffs of the loose bell sleeves. The sweater may be made with a plain round neckline, with a sailor collar, or with a narrow roll collar. It may be made in any color to suit the individual taste. Black and white are to be favored during the coming summer and this would be effective made in black zephyr yarn with white stripes for trimming.

After the family left for the theater this evening, I got desperately lonely and called up Brisky. He came like a shot, and we ginned at each other like a pair of pirates. We talked ourselves almost to sleep the first time in months. How that man understands women. Me, in especial. I told him, all about the way I felt—restless and eager to live alone for years to come.

He sympathized as he always does, and told me that that was the joy and the curse of being an artist.

Then we discussed the situation sanely, and he advised me to get on to myself, and let the artist in me have a chance. He knew of a studio to let, moderate, and all that, and suggested that I take it the next day. Instead of walking or visiting, it was a wonderful paradise he opened up to me.

I am going to do it, tomorrow. I must have the right to self-expression or go mad. I have so many things to do, and simple, cannot stay in my corner all by ourselves where we could watch the people. Brisky and I have so many tastes in common. The longer I engaged to Jack the more I realize this.

You see types are our passion. And there were so many different ones in the place. I felt very much a woman of the world as we sat and speculated in that idle and chummy fashion, that only artists know, about the occult, the alibi, the theater, and Brisky thinks it's too bad that I am

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman and have been married three years. My husband is very good to me, but within the last year I have met a young man in business and since I have dealt with him I have not been contented. My husband loves me and is very good to me.

I cannot give up this young man. He is never out of my mind, day or night, and I do not care to live since I have met him. He is very attractive, very dandy and good in all ways.

My husband has an idea that I love him, but I cannot help it. I do not know whether he goes with other young ladies or not. I have been thinking I would shoot him and myself, but I love him too dearly for that. When I see him I am worse than ever. I will love him until death takes him. Would much rather have him dead than not to see him when I please.

HEART-BROKEN.

You have heard of my mind, you thought to run riot and unless you gain control of yourself the results will be disastrous.

Reason points to immortality of the soul. If you do violence to the man he will hate you for it whether his soul is here or in the next world. You will be a damned soul, somewhere, you can meet your hearts desire. You sacrifice all claim to being decent.

Go away from temptation. Tell your husband the truth and ask him to take you somewhere so that you will have a change to forget the man. Life has not meant for you. Forget yourself in this matter and do what you consider most fair to your husband.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl eighteen years of age. I want to know if it is all right for girls to go swimming, mingling with their young friends. My boy friend asked me several times last summer but I never went with him.

TO BE CONVENTIONAL A SWIMMER.

To be conventional a swimmer should accompany you. I think, however, that everything depends upon the characters of the young people. To most people swimming is a wholesome pleasure. Unless you have reason to think the young man who invites you is a vulgar mind, it would be a right thing for your parents approve. You would probably feel better about it if a crowd of young people went.

CABINET QUARREL BLOCKS ACTION

Attorney General and Secretary of Labor in Sharp
Antagonism.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920, by Janesville
Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., April 16.—President Wilson has been asked by the department of justice and the department of labor to inquire closely into the relationship between so-called "radicals" and communists and the industrial disturbances which have been cropping out of late throughout the country.

The president gave the impression to his cabinet that while the government should proceed relentlessly against disturbers of industrial peace and deport aliens found guilty thereof, he wanted the judicial process to be as unobtrusively fair.

Mr. Wilson's first cabinet meeting in nearly eight months was an extraordinarily interesting. The president sat behind a mahogany desk in the upper apartments of the White House. It is a room used by him as a study. There is a tablet on the wall which recalls that President Lincoln held his civil war sessions with the cabinet in the same room.

Members of the cabinet shook hands with him as he sat with his back to the light which streamed in from the south portico. Members of the cabinet shook hands with him as he sat with his back to the light which streamed in from the south portico.

Palmer With Evidence
Attorney General Palmer, who had brought a portfolio of papers to the meeting, immediately responded with an analysis of the underlying causes of the industrial troubles.

Where Departments Clash
A rather pointed colloquy occurred on the subject of the law involved in the deportation of aliens.

Without the facts, remarked the president, "a very convenient argument by the way." Just which center was mentioned the writer was not informed, but from the White House viewpoint, it might apply to any of a considerable number.

The president said the customary goodbye to the cabinet, and as each filed by his desk he shook hands. He said he had been refreshed by the meeting and didn't feel a bit of strain.

Justice views the radicals as persons of whom short shifts should be made. It contends that the procedure with reference to deportation is purely administrative and not criminal and that all the department of labor needs to do is to be satisfied by the department of justice's investigation.

Department of Labor Objects
On the other hand, the department of labor insists that while the procedure may be administrative, it is as serious as criminal matter for it deprives a man of his home and contact with his family and possessions and drives him out of the country.

Quibble Over Law
The debate in the cabinet, moreover, developed another vital point. Thousands of so-called "communists" were originally members of the socialist party and never consciously participated in any campaign to preach the overthrow of the government by violence.

Communist Membership Enough
It isn't even necessary to prove that an individual himself believes in violence. The law is drastic and officials claim that only two percent of all the individuals arrested for deportation existed for personal belief in violence.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, April 16.—Corn prices started higher today and once more surrounded the top records for the season. General commission house buying accompanied the advance. Bulls urged that notwithstanding the quotations were far above the feeding value of corn, it must be remembered that contracts for future delivery could only be filled by corn at the market and not by corn on the farms. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1.10 to 1.14, with May 1.10 to 1.14 and July 1.14 to 1.16, were followed by a slight setback in some cases, but then by a rally.

Oats reflected the action of corn. After opening at 1.10 to 1.14, up, and then 1.10 to 1.14, the market sagged a little and then resumed its tendency to climb.

Big reselling of oats, which had been made in the market, led to a sharp setback in the corn market. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1.10 to 1.14, with May 1.10 to 1.14 and July 1.14 to 1.16.

You Won't Regret It

Get Out of the Smoke Zone into the O-Zone.

Dynamite Brew

Different concoctions have different distances to "travel." It's all in the kick and the taste and the percentage one seeks as that terminal of satisfaction such as flourished unhindered in the "good old days," the antediluvian period of the middle of January.

Which, incidentally, leads us to remark:

A. Janesville railroad man planned a party. Along with the invitations went a wink and it wasn't because of a cinder in his eye, either.

The wise heads knew. Came the night of the affair. To the subterranean depths of his abode descended the host. He was gone but a few brief moments when from the cellar came a boom like that of a cannon, a crash of falling glass and a yell that brought the guests to the cellarway door in a mob.

Calls for "fren wife" ascended from below.

Felt an hour later, arrayed in a workshirt and blue denims, he explained:

"Gosh, the darn thing exploded when I pulled the cork out. Looket me now."

CONTRACT FOR 64
MILES OF ROAD

The state highway commission, in its quarterly report, says about 61.3 percent of the mileage of concrete surfacing advertised has been awarded by contract or arranged for by day labor force.

The bids received during January and February were rather high, but those received during March are lower, and most of the work advertised during March has been let at reasonable figures. Contracts for 63.77 miles of concrete have been let since Jan. 1.

The chief of engineers of the federal government and the secretary of war have approved the highway commission's plans for the French Island bridge at La Crosse. This bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000.
